New England's Monthly Numismatic Catalog

Holiday Specials in All Departments This Month

Happy Holidays from New England Rare Coin Galleries. As the year draws to a close, we'd like to thank you for being with us. As you know, this has been a banner year for the rare coin market, and a particularly memorable year for New England. This was the year that we became the world's largest dealer in rare U.S. coinage; the year we introduced our new World Coin and U.S. Currency divisions; and the year that the American Numismatic Association selected New England Rare Coin Auctions to conduct its annual auction in St. Louis.

As a special thank-you for making our year so prosperous, you will find holiday special value offerings from all three of our retail divisions in this month's Inventory Selections. From the U.S. division, there are beautiful 1901-S Eagles from an original roll (all in MS-65, Full Strike); from the World Coin division, 1897 Gold 10-Guldens from an original roll (all in MS-63); and from our U.S. Currency division, superb savings on selected Fractionals and Small Size Legal Tender.

We have enjoyed serving your numismatic needs throughout the year, and we look forward to having you rejoin us in 1980 when we'll be conducting the year's first major auction (the Silver Anniversary Florida United Numismatic Association Auction, January 9-11); introducing our new World Coin catalog; introducing our new Rare Stamp division; and finding more ways to meet your collecting needs than ever before.

A special series profiling

New England Rare Coin Galleries' numismatic experts.

Lee J. Bellisario

Lee J. Bellisario is no stranger to collectors who follow the numismatic auction scene. His influence on that sector of the hobby has been phenomenal. He pioneered the concept of Personal Bidder-Representatives. He created New England's distinctive "wide-format" catalogs. He devised special auction receptions for dealers and the New England bidder's card. All in all, his innovative leadership has taken New England Rare Coin Auctions from conception to international acclaim in the span of only 4 years.

But Lee's numismatic experience goes back much further than that. "I started collecting when I was about 8 or 9. My father owned a small restaurant in Cokeburg, Pennsylvania. I used to rummage through the cash drawer for Buffalo Nickels" — there is a slight pause and a smile — "with his permission, of course."

As Lee's interest in coinage grew, so did his enjoyment of related topics like economics and history. In 1967, he began teaching high-school history, and in 1974, he received an M.A. in History and Economics from the University of Delaware. "But I soon took teaching as far as it could go, and I was looking for a new challenge. That's when I discovered that Jim [Halperin, founder of New England Rare Coin Galleries] was looking to start an auction company."

It was in 1975 that Jim Halperin and Lee first met. Jim was impressed with Lee's enthusiasm, his vast knowledge of the field and his wealth of innovative ideas. "I started working here 5 days before the first New England auction — and for months after that, I was the entire auction staff! Quite different from the sophisticated resources we have now." Soon, Lee's ideas began converting NERCA into an efficient, totally professional service organization. In 1979, his efforts were formally recognized when the American Numismatic Association selected New England as its official auction firm of the year. "I think they realized that we were working harder for our consignors and bidders than any other auction firm. Receiving that auction was a real honor. No one had ever done it in 4 years before."

With New England Rare Coin Auctions now firmly in the forefront of the industry, Lee is again looking for new challenges. "Starting up a currency division of NERCG was partly my idea, partly Jim's, partly inevitable. The fascinating historic, artistic and economic importance of currency is attracting more and more collectors each day."

The silver dollar collection of the late multi-millionaire LaVere Redfield is the most famous in numismatic history. It was discovered in 1974 when IRS agents tore down a cardboard wall in the basement of the Redfield mansion. There, carefully stacked in bank bags, were 407,283 Morgan and Peace Dollars — the largest silver dollar collection in history later purchased by a Los Angeles coin dealer for the largest sum ever to change hands in a single numismatic transaction: $7,000,000.

The excitement caused by the Redfield discovery ignited a major collecting boom whose effects are still being felt today. Truly, these coins are significant pieces of numismatic history. And New England now offers a select portion of the Redfield Morgan Dollar Collection to Inventory Selections readers. For these coins only, we've extended our regular 45-day return privilege to 6 months, because we are sure you will be totally pleased with these lovely silver gems.

A Price for Betrayal

(And Other Coins from the Bible)

Imagine owning coins that were, perhaps, once handled by Pontius Pilate, Judas Iscariot — even Jesus of Nazareth. Here's a holiday look at just a few of the collectible coins of the Bible.

by Gregory Potter Editor, Inventory Selections

World coin collecting is a field of tremendous scope and complexity. No one collector, no matter how extensive his resources, can ever hope to encompass it all in a lifetime. This is why most world coin collectors begin their activities by "experimenting" — buying various types and dates of world coinage to see which they enjoy most - but end up specializing their collecting activities according to their own aesthetic tastes and historic interests.

One of the most fascinating specialty areas of world coin collecting is Biblical coinage. Coins mentioned in the Bible not only have deep historical significance, they are also mementoes of the very foundations of Western thought. And what could be more exciting to own than a numismatic specimen that was once, perhaps, handled by Judas Iscariot, Pontius Pilate — or even Jesus of Nazareth himself?

Many and varied are the coins of the Bible - and collecting a complete set is a demanding challenge. However, there are five Biblical coins which, because of their special significance, are considered essential to any Biblical coinage collection.

THE DENARIUS OF AUGUSTUS

In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be enrolled. This was the first enrollment, when Quininius was governor of Syria. And all went to be enrolled, each to his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, from the city Nazareth, to Judea, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David, to be enrolled with Mary, his betrothed, who was with child.

— Luke 11, 1.5

The decree from Augustus that forced Joseph and Mary to travel to Bethlehem involved payment of a head tax. Denarii were commonly used for such a tax, and it is now commonly believed that Joseph paid his tax with a denarius like the one pictured above.

The obverse of this denarius depicts the Emperor Augustus, stepson of Julius Caesar and the first true emperor of the Roman people.

His portrait appeared on all denarii in use at the time of Jesus's birth, just as Julius Caesar's portrait had appeared on denarii issued during his reign. Whether Augustus's portrait here is an accurate depiction of the emperor has been a matter of debate among numismatic historians for centuries. Suetonius, the famous ancient chronicler of the imperial family's lives, claims that Augustus was "unusually handsome. His expression was calm and mild, his eyes clear and bright. His hair was curly gold and his eyebrows met. His ears were moderate size, his nose projected a little at the top and then bent slightly." Certainly, some of these characteristics are apparent on the emperor's denarius, and this tends to indicate that the portrait is accurate. Moreover, ever since the The Augustus Primaporta establishment of the Roman Republic, there had been a tendency toward realism in Roman arts - especially in the arts of engraving and portraiture.

However, there is also little doubt that Augustus was not quite as noble and regal in appearance as he is portrayed on this coin, for when Augustus took the throne, he personally guided a "renaissance" in Roman art based upon recapturing the Hellenistic idealism of Greece. Thus, the realism of Republican art became tempered by the splendor of Greek ideals. Nowhere was this more evident than in the famous statue of Augustus sculpted for the emperor's villa at Primaporta. Here, Augustus's face is recognizable as that of an individual, but his features have been smoothed and idealized to give him a more noble bearing. Even his torso, realistic in stance and proportion, has been idealized in the drapery and armor he wears. This same blend of realism and idealism is probably what we are seeing on the obverse of the Augustan denarius. Around Augustus's real/ideal portrait is the inscription: "Augustus Divi F." meaning "Augustus, son of the deified Julius Caesar." After his assassination, Julius had been raised to the status of a god by Roman theologians. (Later, the deification of emperors was to become common practice in the empire.) Augustus, although not a full son of Julius, liked to boast that he was, and the "Divi F." inscription appears on all of his

The reverse of the denarius shown here depicts Caius and Lucius, grandsons of Julius Caesar. At the time, they were heirs apparent to the throne. Both, however, died "mysteriously" - poisoned, if we are to believe Suetonius - and never reaped their inheritance. Other types of Augustan denarii (there are over 250) depict other members of the Augustan family, symbols of war, or symbols of peace. The "Caius and Lucius" type was the type most likely to have been used by Joseph at Bethlehem, as it was minted in 9 B.C. and was in widespread circulation by the time of Jesus's birth.

THE AUREUS OF AUGUSTUS

And going into the house they saw the child with Mary his mother, and they fell down and worshipped him. Then, opening their treasures, they offered him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh.

- Matthew II, 11

There is some debate among historians concerning whether the gold brought to the baby Jesus by the wise men actually included coinage. If it did, that coinage would most likely have been aureii of Augustus.

In design, the aureii of Augustus were virtually identical to the denarii. The major difference between them consisted of their metals, and their values. When Augustus became emperor, he inherited one of the most disorganized monetary systems in history. Republican generals under Julius Caesar, as well as under the short-lived triumverates, were all authorized to issue their own coinage. As a result, there was no consistency or order in the overall Roman monetary system. Augustus, reputed by some historians to be a numismatic hobbyist himself, immediately instituted a new "bimetallic" system of coinage. This means that, under Augustus, gold and silver coinage were, by law, kept at a fixed ratio with one another. (For a summary of this system, see the chart below.) A bimetallic system of this sort allowed for the coinage of many coins, in many metals, by many minters, while retaining monetary order and consistency throughout the empire. In fact, Augustus's system was so successful that it remained in force for over 200 years.

1 lb. of silver 1 lb. of gold	=	42 aureii

Augustan aureii are also extremely desirable as collector's items because of their unusual fineness. While most U.S. gold dollars are .900 fine, Augustan aureii are sometimes .950 fine or better. In fact, most aureii contain 5 times the weight in gold of U.S. dollars. This, of course, means that their surfaces are soft, making it extremely difficult to find specimens without signs of extensive wear. It also means that the Roman aureus far outstrips the U.S. dollar in bullion value.

THE DENARIUS OF TIBERIUS

"Bring me a coin, and let me look at it." And they brought one. And he said to them, "Whose likeness and inscription is this?" They said to him, "Caesar's." Jesus said to them, "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's." — Mark XII, 15-17

"Render to Caesar" is, perhaps, the most famous of all Biblical references to money — and the "Caesar" in power at the time Jesus made this statement was Tiberius. Because of this, Tiberian denarii are among the most sought-after and scarce coins in numismatics. Few present owners of these rarities want to sell them. They know that, not only is the present number of collectible Tiberian denarii limited, but the original supply was also low. Years after Tiberius's death, the emperor Nero debased Rome's silver coinage and melted down many of the earlier emperors' denarii. (Augustan denarii were not melted down, due to Augustus's tremendous popularity among the Roman people.) Thus, few Tiberian denarii survived the empire — and of those that did, an even smaller number were well-preserved.

The Tiberian denarius features a portrait of the Emperor Tiberius on its obverse, surrounded by the inscription: "T. Caesar Divi F. Augustus" (Tiberius Caesar, son of the deified Augustus). Actually, Tiberius was no more the son of Augustus than Augustus had been of Julius. Rather, Tiberius was the son of Livia, Augustus's infamous wife who Suetonius claims poisoned the former emperor's nephews so that her own son could attain the throne. If this is true, Tiberius's decision to put his mother on the reverse of his denarius may have been an act of gratitude. She is seen here sitting on the imperial throne, holding a staff and an olive branch. Some numismatic historians have argued that the face of this figure is too small to ascertain the lady's true identity - that, rather than Livia, this could simply be some sort of personification of "Pax" (Peace), as the female figures on most U.S. coins are personifications of Liberty. Yet, because of Livia's cruicial role in the Tiberian reign, and due to the imperial fondness for placing relatives on denarii reverses, most historians now agree that this seated woman is probably the infamous empress.

THE WIDOW'S MITE

And he saw a poor widow put in two copper coins. And he said, "Truly I tell you, this poor widow has put in more than all of them; for they all contributed out of their abundance, but she out of her poverty put in all the living that she had," — Luke XXI, 2-3

Mites were the lowest form of Hebrew coinage in Jesus's time, and there were several varieties in existence. The most common were those minted under Herod Antipas, then tetrarch of Galilee and Perea, son of Herod I. It is Herod Antipas who is the "Herod" most commonly referred to in the Bible, and it is he who Jesus called "the fox." His mites are all in scarce supply today and usually found in poor condition. All of them feature designs showing reeds, palm branches or palm trees — with the single exception of one mite which carries wreaths and dates on its obverse. It is now believed that these coins were minted in the city of Tiberias (named in honor of the then-current emperor), and that their designs were purposely kept free of portraiture so that the Jews would not be offended by "graven images" on their coinage.

THE SHEKEL OF TYRE

When Judas, his betrayer, saw that he was condemned, he repented and brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and the elders, saying, "I have sinned in betraying innocent blood." They said, "What is this to us? See to it yourself." And throwing down the pieces of silver in the temple, he departed; and he went and hanged himself. — Matthew XXVII, 3-5

Finally, we come to the most infamous coins in the Bible — perhaps, in all of history: Judas Iscariot's 30 pieces of silver. Although a passage from the book of Zechariah undoubtedly pinpoints these coins as shekels, there are no records of Hebrew shekels being in circulation at the time. This has catapulted several numismatic historians into headlong debates over the true identity of Judas's coins. Some have argued that they were silver 4-drachm pieces of Antioch. These coins had weights corresponding to shekels and featured a portrait of Augustus on the obverse, with a personification of the City of Antioch on the reverse.

However, a greater number of numismatists presently feel that Jesus's betrayal was paid for by 30 4-drachm pieces from Tyre. These pieces also correspond in weight to the shekel and, in the year of Jesus's death, they were in much more plentiful supply than their Antiochian counterpart. The obverse of these coins depicts the Phoenecian god Melkarth (later Hellenized as Herakles, or Hercules). On the reverse, an eagle stands on the prow of a ship, a palm branch over its left shoulder and the club of Melkarth in the left field.

Of course, these five coins are not the only numismatic pieces mentioned in the Bible. There are also collectible coins minted under Pontius Pilate; coins used, perhaps, by the good Samaritan; the Assarion Farthing mentioned by Jesus in his parable of the sparrow; and many more. A complete collection of Biblical coins can take years of careful searching — but many world coin collectors have already found that those years can be incredibly rewarding.

Market Report

by Tim LaPointe

At the shows

Today's tremendous rare coin activity is making a shambles of age-old numismatic traditions. For the second year running, the November-December coin market, traditionally a slow period, has proven unusually strong. Nowhere was this more evident than at the Garrett Sale (held November 28-29 in New York City). Prices realized for this 622-lot auction topped $7,000,000, making it the highest-grossing numismatic auction in history (a record previously held by New England's 1979 A.N.A. Sale). Further evidence of the month's tradition-breaking activity surfaced at the Commonwealth Coin & Stamp Show (held November 30-December 2 in New Carrolton, MD). Despite the fact that many major dealers were not in attendance (due to the Garrett Sale), New England numismatists reports that buying and selling were very strong, and collector/investor attendance was at a peak.

Gold

Gold bullion and bullion coins are on the rise again. As this report goes to press, gold is topping the $440 per ounce mark — a record high. Rare gold is also tremendously active, with the spotlight on Garrett Sale pieces. At that sale, a specimen of the rare Brasher Doubloon (a coin which, in slightly lower condition, sold for $430,000 at Auction '79) was auctioned for $725,000. An 1854 Type Two Gold Dollar Proof sold for $90,000. Three Dollar Gold Proofs also proved popular at the sale. An 1854 $3 Proof sold for $45,000; an 1866, for $34,000; an 1877 for $35,000; an 1874 (of which only 20 were minted), for $42,000; and an 1873 Open 3 (only 25 minted), for $44,000.

Equally as popular were Early Half Eagles from 1795 to 1829. One 1795 specimen in AU condition sold for $60,000; a 1798 "Small Eagle on Reverse" piece in EF sold for $110,000; and an 1829 Large Planchet in Choice BU traded for $165,000. Proof Stella gold pieces also brought premium prices, with an 1879 Coiled Hair specimen selling at $115,000 and an 1880 Flowing Hair bringing $65,000. But what makes all of these record prices particularly significant is that most of these coins were purchased by dealers rather than collectors. This means that their influence on the total market should continue for some time to come.

Silver

With silver bullion nearing the $20 per ounce mark this month, all bullion-related coins (such as common Roosevelt Dimes, Washington Quarters and Franklin Half Dollars) have shown gains. And, as silver bullion moves, most of the non-bullion-related dates of these issues are also reaching new price heights.

While all but true Gem-quality silver dollars have quieted down this month, Walking Liberty Half Dollars have shown substantial gains in almost every date from 1934 to 1947. Meanwhile, silver type coinage has skyrocketed. At the Garrett Sale, prices for silver type coins were realized that, only a year ago, would have seemed ridiculous, but in today's market make sense. For example, a 1796/5 Half Dime graded "UNC" realized $60,000; a 1795 Half Dollar graded UNC brought $34,000; and an 1853-O Without Arrows & Rays Half Dollar in VF sold for $40,000. Again, most of these coins were purchased by dealers rather than collectors.

Copper

After a long period of minimal activity, copper coinage may be making its first strong showing in a long while. As we reported last month, almost all copper issues are showing advances in Mint State and Proof grades. In addition, Flowing Hair and Liberty Cap Half Cents, as well as Chain and Wreath Cents, are gaining in all circulated conditions from G to AU. It seems that the Garrett Sale — where an UNC 1795 Half Cent brought $30,000 and an UNC 1793 Chain Cent brought $115,000 — has helped fuel greater interest in these early copper series.

Currency

Another tradition quickly being broken is U.S. currency's historic tendency to continually lag behind the U.S. coin market. Recent heavy activity in this area is resulting in higher and higher wholesale price levels. However, as in the coin market, the heaviest activity is focused upon quality material. At the Commonwealth Show, for example, there was a lack of top-quality U.S. currency. Yet, the few truly choice notes available were quickly absorbed. U.S. Gold Certificates and Treasury Notes traded for 10%-20% above previous show levels, and all Gem Type Notes have experienced gains.

Large Size National Notes, traditionally classified by some dealers as a specialty area, experienced renewed interest this month — especially for type Large Size Pennsylvania Nationals. Dealer interest in low serial number notes and cut sheets of U.S. Large Size Currency is also on the rise.

World Coins

December has been a historic month for world coins. In a period of just six days, New England attended four major numismatic affairs: a 3-day auction of world coins; two 1-day auctions of ancients, and, of course, the 3-day New York International Numismatic Exposition (N.I.C.E.). At the 3-day world coin auction, conducted by NASCA, almost 3,000 lots went under the hammer, with the highlight of the show being a 1618/17 Spanish 50-Reale in magnificent UNC condition which fetched a record price of $17,000. At the 3-day Numismatic Fine Arts auction, a crowd of virtually every important personage in the world coin field bid up healthy sums on Greek silver.

N.I.C.E. was so crowded that dealers report standing in line for ½ hour or more just to get in. Bourse floor activity was as heavy as attendance — especially in the area of quality coins from Great Britain, which seem to grow more popular from show to show.

December, 1979

The figures in this month's Numismatic Price Index indicate weighted average price trends from October 31, 1979 through November 30, 1979.

Copper	1.7%
Nickel	▲ 6.0%
Silver	▲ 11.8%
Gold	4.9%

The figures above were derived by tracing the price movements of a balanced, representative sample of U.S. rare coins — including 144 major type and better date coins — in MS-65 or Proof-65 condition for the period of one month. NEW ENGLAND Our Complete Nare Coin RARE COIN Numismatic Services

□ Grading

We guarantee that coins purchased from us are graded correctly and will meet our high standards when you wish to sell them. Further, we guarantee to purchase these coins at the same grade at which they were sold, or sell them for you at auction cataloged at the same grade at which you purchased them.

Our grading system is patterned after that of the American Numismatic Association. Developed in 1978, the A.N.A. System is rapidly being adopted by virtually the entire professional numismatic community. Its designations are:

Poor		. 1
Fair
About Good		3
Good	4	,5
Very Good
Fine	. 12,1	15
Very Fine	5,30,3	35
Extremely Fine
About Uncirculated50),55,5	58
Mint State 60,63,64,65,66,67	,69,7	70
Proof 60,63,65,67	,69,7	70

Slash grades indicate obverse/reverse designations. For example, a grade of 65/63 describes a coin with an obverse of Mint State 65 and a reverse of Mint State 63.

Authenticity

We further guarantee that all coins sold by New England Rare Coin Galleries are authentic. To protect our customers, and as proof of our certainty that no altered or counterfeit coin can escape our attention, we guarantee to refund the full purchase price plus 15% compound annual interest, on any non-authentic coin acquired from us.

Documentation

These guarantees are issued in writing with all coins purchased from New England Rare Coin Galleries. Each written guarantee is personally endorsed by two professional numismatists.

Satisfaction

If, for any reason, you are not satisfied with your purchases, you may return them within 45 days of the date you received them for a full refund or replacement.

2.Expert Counseling

Use New England's toll-free number to consult with some of the most knowledgeable numismatists in America. Our expert staff is often sought by government agencies, museums and other coin dealers for advice on authenticity and value. We supply free information on placing coins in retirement plans, building rare coin portfolios and liquidating collections.

3. Selection

Our multi-million dollar inventory of U.S. rare coins is the largest in the world. New England buyers examine several million dollars' worth of coins each week to bring our customers the very best values.

5.Personal Service Cards
